LOVE SESSIONS

Love sessions are all related to weddings. They're the perfect a la carte photo session that's booked at a different time than your wedding photography package if you've booked with Christine. The different kinds of sessions are:

- Engagement session - lifestyle portraits before your wedding day
- Bridal boudoir – lifestyle lingerie portraits before your wedding day
- Bridal – portraits in bridal gown before your wedding day
- Day After – lifestyle portraits in wedding attire the day after your wedding

Documentary style photography is where it's at. I believe in capturing moments, not creating them. That means your photos will be authentic. Instead of a highly posed performance for the camera, you'll be interacting with the world around you how you naturally would. Taking pictures in a familiar setting or one of your favorite spots something that helps you feel more comfortable in front of the camera. The organic feel & artistic touch I try to apply to every image is something I pride myself in. So rest easy knowing that I'll be there every step of the way to document, not direct.
